

October newsletter

In this month's newsletter, I get quite controversial for a purpose, let you know about a very timely podcast with Wisdom of the Ages host Ayn Sullivan on the great awakening. I will also cover a predicted occurrence for the Winter harmony time is going to surprise a few people and I finish with a look at some of the possible effects of increasing empathy – one of the phenomena we are finding associated with these increasingly more powerful energies when we allow ourselves to go with the flow of them.

Some people are saying that revolution is in the air. Now revolution is an interesting word. Its original 14th century meaning was about the movement of celestial bodies. It referred to them 'revolving' and the word stemmed from the Latin word 'revolvere' meaning to turn or roll back.

One cannot also help but see the word evolution within it too - as though we are re-evolving. In a way our evolution is cyclic as we are turning back again to a type of cosmic environment humans used to experience in the past.

This great cycle from group consciousness to Individual consciousness and back again is not like a reset though. Our soul's journey, through all the lifetimes we have led, will be experiencing this current transition in a new and much more prepared way. Our ancestors have been paving the way for us through their prophecies, their symbols and their insightful writings. Our own communications with our subconscious minds and even our past life and ancestral investigations, will have also prepared us. We are indeed the revolutionaries whose time has come.

We may not go to mass protests in front of official buildings in capitals around the World, but what we are doing is far more radical, impactful and, if some people knew what we were up to, I am sure they would be extremely unhappy about it.

Our peaceful silence with our positive expectation, joy and self-esteem are a huge threat to those who would wish to suppress whole populations through fear and anger.

In these modern times, our 'would-be' rulers have all the digital knowledge they need from social media to be able to tell the percentages of their populations who have accepted and who believe their narrative and the percentages of people who don't. They will be using this ratio as a measure for how successful their propaganda has been. When they lose ground, they know they have to 'up' their fear mongering and do things like the shutting down of society (where they can).

It must be getting clearer to them now, that more and more of the general public do not believe them, which is why they are trying to get us to fear a mythical 'second wave'. I say mythical because never in the life of a seasonal virus has there ever been one.

All this is actually unimportant to us, but we do need to accept the reality of the times we live in and how much worse they could get. The next three months will likely see the oppression increase. All the Economic, Political, Astrological & Scientific signs suggest it will. The few psychopaths that want depopulation, a single, centrally controlled digital currency, microchip implants that can control our consciousness, will lie and cheat and stop at nothing to try to achieve that.

They will fail though. Various 'connected' sources around the World tell us that they are no longer in control of the timelines.

All we need to do is to acknowledge what they are trying to do and prepare for what is ahead emotionally & spiritually and help others around us to do the same. If we can stay positive and do that – all will be well.

For this reason, I am going to be painting a rather gloomy picture of some of that reality, as I have come to see it, in this Newsletter. It is not to bring you down into a negative state but rather to help you practice moving quickly into a positive state.

In nearly three month's time, we will have perhaps the most important harmony time we have had yet. I will explain why later on in this newsletter. This too will actually be challenging for us because of a completely new frequency that most of us will be experiencing for the first time.

So please read on as ultimately it is all good news. Things are changing and life will get better in the medium to long term.

The next three months though may challenge many of us more than any other challenge in our lifetime – so be careful and be positive.

Earth Energies update

The day before my wife and I had our 32nd wedding anniversary, I had still had not found a good restaurant for a place to have a celebratory meal. We were in Snowdonia having just run up Mount Snowdon, well my wife ran up, I ran a bit and then had to walk. At the hotel afterwards, we asked one of the staff if they knew of a place that they could recommend in Anglesey that was a good place to eat seafood. One of the staff came from the island and they kindly came to speak with us. Beaumaris was recommended and a restaurant just outside the town called The Gazelle.

We had plans to go to several places on the island the next day on our anniversary, Bryn Gwyn, Bryn Celli Dhu and Holyhead but not Beaumaris. It was the passion in the young lady's voice though that somehow caught my attention when she recommended it. It seemed strangely excessive to the extent that it made me realise I should perhaps take notice and go there.

In the morning we drove through the small seaside town of Beaumaris with its medieval castle. It looked like a lovely place to spend the morning looking around so we followed the signs to a car park. It was packed and with a queue to get in but, just past the entrance to it, I saw a car beginning to pull away from having been parked on the side of the road.

Thanking the Universe, I pulled in behind the leaving car & turned to look out across the waters of the Menai straits only to find myself staring instead at a stone circle that was only a few feet away, between my car and a short beach the other side of it. (This is the circle in the image at the start of this newsletter).

It was a modern circle though and I found out later that it was put up to celebrate the age of the Druids in Anglesey and as a reminder of an Eisteddfod that was held here in 1996. An Eisteddfod was originally a gathering of bards but is now considered to be a celebration of singing, dancing and the splendid Welsh culture. At the centre of the circle though was a flat rock called the Logan stone. This could have actually been there for far longer than the other modern standing stones around it. Having seemingly been drawn to find this place, I really had to check to see if there were any Energy lines running through the site.

You can perhaps imagine my surprise to find not just a pair of type 1 lines, a pair of type 2 lines, a pair of type 3 lines but also a pair of type 4 lines. The latter were in the same direction as the ley that runs from Bryn Gwyn through Bryn Celli Dhu all the way through Lancashire and up to and through Roseberry Topping just South of Middlesbrough.

Someone, somewhere must have done some good energy work at this modern site in the recent past. It was even a symmetrical node. It just goes to show that it is worth checking some of the modern day stone circles. I look back at it as a sign to try and not make assumptions – something that is still so easy for us to all do and also a sign to keep being curious & to 'go with the flow'.

Having visited Holyhead and done some sunbathing on a beautiful little beach that was surrounded by Ordovician schists and melange deposits (Only Geologists will appreciate that – sorry), we ended the day by going to a site that I had been hoping to investigate for many years - Bryn Gwyn.

These two stones are all that is left to see now. They stand either side of a gate between two fields which have been divided by a hedge. In the past there was a large stone circle here. The place still has huge potential power today though. It is a symmetrical 4th Order node. Two pairs of type four lines cross here. The one I mentioned earlier that ran through Bryn Celli Dhu and the modern circle in Beaumaris to Roseberry Topping and beyond. The second pair runs through Royston in Hertfordshire North of London in a North West direction to Anglesey and through these Bryn Gwyn stones and then across the North sea to Newgrange and on through the Knocknarea stone circle complex near Sligo and Maeve's cairn.

The centre of the node here at Bryn Gwyn is just the other side of the gate between the two stones as it is accessible via a footpath from the nearby road after about a 5min walk. What it really needs now more than anything else is a local group of people to meditate there on the harmony days to bring it into full function. Its potential to bring in 'unmanifest' energy is considerable and that would make a huge positive difference to the whole of North West Wales.

From there we headed towards Bryn Celli Dhu. I won't mention much about it in this newsletter as I have covered that in my social media posts. I would say though how fortunate I was to have gone there late in the afternoon just before the Sun was going down. Why I had decided to leave visiting this so late in the day was because we wanted to go to The Gazelle restaurant and that was not too far away. (I highly recommend it by the way – the local mussel dish, with its milky, parsley and onion buerre blanc sauce was delicious and the views across the straits were stunning.)

With the low Sun and it being close to the Autumn equinox, I had the chance of seeing the Sun shine right down the passage way of the Burial mound. One has to wonder why these Ancient stone age people would build their tomb with a passage that aligns to the rising and setting Sun at the Autumn equinox as well as the type 4 pair of lines that cross through this site. I suspect they felt that the souls of their loved ones would find good passage across to the other Worlds. On the harmony days too, they would have also found that, with the portals opening, they could go to the site and have a chat with them.

We are perhaps too suspicious of mediums today as many are fraudulent. However, we know the good ones have been scientifically tested and it has been shown to work. (I cover this in my book 'The key to the secret of the Ancients'.) Just imagine today if every community had a quality medium who could regularly speak with the ancestors.

Harmony frequencies

Since I first noticed that all the groups of energy lines came into harmony four times a year, I began to look into how they did this in a practical way. Earth Energy lines, when they are away from the nodes, have a side to side movement. Back in 2010 the frequency they all reached was 4 hours one way & four hours back the other way – this was an 8 hour frequency. Back then it was one of the typical frequencies of the smaller type 1 lines.

At the next harmony time, the lines moved 5 hours one way and 5 hours back the other way. – this was therefore a 10 hour frequency.

The larger type 4 lines, like the Michael and Mary line always moved side to side every 12 hours for a 24hr frequency. These lines were also much wider than the narrower type 1 lines and the distance they moved was much greater. At harmony time though it was found that these two lines did not move as far from one side to the other and they sped up. It was shortening its distance and increasing its speed in order to now keep pace with the smaller lines.

Over the years we have found harmony frequencies of 12 hrs, 14 hrs, 16 hrs and more lately 24hrs. On these occasions the Michael and Mary lines did not have to alter distance or speed at all, the smaller lines though had to widen their range of movement and slow down in order to match the larger type 4 lines.

'Long time' readers of my newsletters will know, everything changed in the Summer of 2017 and the harmony time extended beyond just a day to last 6 days. This coincided with the time when three new Emperor Dragons came back to the Earth. Our hypothesis here was that extra galactic cosmic energy was able to get through because of the lowering magnetic fields.

Since then we have had 36 hr harmony frequencies and even 48 hr frequencies as the type 5 lines typically have that frequency.

It has to be said that mankind is used to the frequencies of the smaller energy lines because there are so many more of them. When all the energies come into harmony on the higher frequencies, it can feel strange to many people. Energy lines are everywhere and many people live on them so if these frequencies are not ones you are accustomed to, it can bring major changes. Many of you will have heard me say that energies accentuate emotions. If you feel negative, you will feel that negativity more intensely. If you feel positive you will feel that more intensely too. They can be a double edged sword and this is perhaps one reason there is so much turmoil and polarised thinking in the World today.

When you look at the patterns of harmony frequencies and how they change over the years, you can begin to predict what harmony frequency will come next. Predictive dowsing, something I begin to teach on my level 2 dowsing courses, can also help us learn and prepare for what is coming.

It is this now that gives rise to some potential concern in regards to the next harmony period starting on 20th December. The reason for this goes back to the Emperor Dragons and in particular the last one to arrive. Its very nature, the length of time it arrived and much else about this dragon made it stand apart from the other dragons. Why this was the case, we are still learning more about. What we do know though is that when its cosmic energies and its high energy neutrino's impart energy to our iron nickel inner core, they are transduced and filtered out into 72 hour frequencies. (These different frequencies are a quality of the iron nickel inner core acting as a transducer and its mechanical filtering effect – not the galactic energy frequencies which provide the constant source of the energy having been changed into gamma rays and neutrinos by our Earth's atmosphere).

In other words this Emperor Dragon, the one that runs across the USA, has much lower frequencies than all the others. None of us have been used to these frequencies up until a couple of years ago and even since then, only a few people who have meditated on these lines, have really begun to appreciate how unique they are.

Well that seems about to all change. At the winter solstice harmony time, all energy lines are going to move to this 72 hr frequency. I really have no idea what is going to happen. I just really hope that we can get as many people as possible all around the World to come together in group meditation on the sacred sites.

What I am pleased to hear is that the Aboriginal Australians seem to have recognised this and they are holding special ceremonies at Uluru that week (1st Order node). Cosmic consciousness workshops have also been arranged around the rock at the same time. It feels as though the power of the site and the power of the occasion is drawing in people's attention.

So where will you go on Sunday December 20th 2020. I shall be at the Stanton Drew stone circle just South of Bristol at midday. If you cannot make that day though, the harmony time is likely to be around 6 days long this time – maybe even longer.

Frankly, I think the World is really going to need people to gather during this time after the last three months it will have had.

Science

I have previously tried to stay away from controversial topics in these newsletters but I did mention at the start of this one that we need to experience some reality and to prepare ourselves emotionally in a positive way.

The following information comes from a good friend of mine who was one of the UK's top statisticians who worked for the Government and then the health service. In other words he knows how to number crunch, how to access public databases like the Office of National Statistics, and he has spent time doing this in the medical industry. He also knows how things are done to present specific narratives and how to spot these things.

The following are six points that he felt everyone should know about Covid. He has also supplied sources for the data. Please share this information if you would like to. It would seem that the governments around the World have been told to pull the wool over our eyes for some reason – I will go into possible reasons next.

SIX SALIENT POINTS

1. The PCR test detects RNA fragments that characterise SARS-COV-2 and the related virus 'family'. A positive result means you may or may not be experiencing COVID-19 symptoms and you may or may not be carrying a different virus from the same family. Depending on the cycle point you may or may not be capable of infecting others.

2. Generally speaking we will get more positive cases when we do more tests. Tests have been rising rapidly in number in the UK. Back in the week beginning 7th May a total of 530,928 tests were undertaken, whereas during the week beginning 10th September a total of 1,687,674 tests were undertaken, this being just over three times as many tests.

3. Somebody going into hospital for a routine procedure and testing positive during their stay will be counted as a COVID-19 admission. They may or may not be symptomatic of COVID-19 and they may or may not be carrying a different virus from the same family. Depending on the cycle point they may or may not be capable of infecting others. They may also test positive as a result of carrying SARS-COV-2 RNA fragments long after the infectious phase has passed.

4. Use of ventilation beds increases in the autumn toward the winter seasonal peak for those suffering from chronic and acute respiratory conditions. If any of these patients also happen to test positive they will be counted toward COVID-19 ventilation bed use. They may or may not be symptomatic of COVID-19 (as opposed to their pre-existent condition) and they may or may not be carrying a different virus from the same family. Depending on the cycle point they may or may not be capable of infecting others. They may also test positive as a result of carrying SARS-COV-2 RNA fragments long after the infectious phase has passed.

5. Anybody who has been infected with the SARS-COV-2 virus, whether they realised this or not at the time, may still be carrying sufficient non-infectious SARS-COV-2 RNA fragments to yield a positive test result. These folk will have developed antibodies that will confer immunity.

6. As at 4pm on 16th September NHS England declared a total of 29,705 deaths for those testing positive at time of death (and if COVID-19 was entered onto the death certificate for those dying without a positive test result). Of these only 1,396 deaths can be solely attributed to COVID-19 alone.

If you have been keeping track of what has happened recently, it seems that the government ministers in the UK have been mistakenly reporting the false positive percentages and their effects on the numbers of positive cases. They should have been deducting these false positive numbers from the total number of tests done, not just deducting them from the total number of positive tests. The difference is too vastly different figures of positive cases. Deducting false positives, the correct way from the total tested figure, shows we have no pandemic and almost no new positive cases.

Their wrongful actions has therefore allowed them to incorrectly report a rise in positive tests and, with the very minimal number of hospital admissions & the much lower death rates, the seasonal virus is all but over and there really is no need for lockdowns, social distancing or the wearing masks at all.

So why are we in this position?

The answer to this takes us down a very deep rabbit hole. If you feel yourself getting angry – good – feel it and then switch the feeling to love as fast as you can. You need to get good at this to survive the next three months.

To help you do this, remember that those few demonic people have chosen to reincarnate at this time to play devil's advocate here to help the rest of us evolve (Although they are completely consciously unaware of this and their own souls journey).

Only a small percentage of us so far have to be able to awaken and if we reach a critical threshold in our numbers, we can ensure that everyone benefits.

The awakened must be ready and prepared to now help everyone else on the planet. In the face of all the adversity that is going to be chucked at us, we must retain love, joy, positive expectation, self-esteem and peacefulness.

So here are ten points to come to help you come to terms with what may or may not happen – whether this is the truth, the whole truth or nothing but the truth, this is information is given to help us prepare in advance.

1. There is a war on for human consciousness – a few demonically influenced humans are fighting for their lives to stop the masses waking up and to also stop us discovering that this suppression has been going on for many centuries now.
2. These people know that we stand on the cusp of a natural event that will help mankind, in its entirety, escape their clutches for ever and enter into a new golden age.
3. These demonic humans have suppressed helpful technology from us for over a hundred years and it has allowed them to amass control over 99% of the World's natural wealth and exert economic control over us with fiat currencies that are purposely printed in limitless ways to assist in their goal. They deceive us with false inflation figures to hide their intentional decrease in a currency's value as this transfers more wealth from the poor to themselves. However they have a problem, they know their neo classical 'Keynesian' economics has gone wrong and more and more people have started to take notice. They are now trying to introduce a centrally controlled global digital currency where they can bring in negative interest rates to save their system from failing. (This is not Bitcoin - Bitcoin is decentralised, limited in numbers to just 21 million coins and therefore not fiat and not under their control). However they just cannot bring in their favoured 'owned and controlled' solution if they get caught (found out by enough people) for causing the problem in the first place. Governments & their reactions to the Covid pandemic are, & were, supposed to take this blame of bringing down the World economy.

4. Their stated agenda is to reduce global population down to a half a billion (Search:- Georgia Guidestones) and they intend to do this with vaccines that kill people or make people infertile. Without a vaccine you will not be allowed to go anywhere or do anything so they do not need to make them mandatory. Their problem here is that they are losing control of this narrative as Bill Gates's disastrous vaccination history in India and Africa has become too well known. Deformities and infertilities don't go away quickly enough even with people with short term memories.
5. One of the original aims of these vaccinations was to sever a human being's spiritual connection. The materialistic viewpoint had to be maintained and the idea of universal consciousness/God/Creator, and an afterlife, all had to be eradicated or come under the control of organised religions. When Einstein's relativity theory came along it allowed no room for any background medium – the Ether. This stopped Ether technology investigation and research into the other background matter frequencies where the other vibratory Worlds exist along with all their 'Beings' on them. (By the way I am not an anti-vaxxer – some of the older tried and tested ones are likely to be fine. I am just pro informed choice and for long term independent testing of the vaccines.)
6. The Cabal's own secret research establishments have been going unchallenged and without competition for over 80 years. Ether technology (I am not a fan of Relativity theory at all) that could really help mankind has been purposely suppressed as they seek to dominate mankind and become thought of in future as Gods themselves – just as they had lived on Earth thousands of years ago when they last held humans in servitude. (This is one reason for suppressed Archaeology – another is the regular solar catastrophe.)
7. What they are desperately trying to complete now is Human / Artificial intelligence hybrid technology that can be implanted within our brains. If they can get us to accept that, it is game over for humans. We will cease to have any control over our consciousness and our own lives and our connection with Spirit will vanish for ever.
8. These few demonic people are incredibly evil humans who have already sold their souls for power and money to satisfy their greed and their ego. They need us to feel fear as they feed off that. It fuels them. (This is why Paedophilia is so popular amongst them all and why thousands of small children from around the World seemingly go missing every year – which is incredibly bad and sad if true). They have not acted alone though, they have had help from 'Beings' from the lower matter frequency Worlds (Demons) – hence them being demonically influenced. These demons have been deliberately disguised by the special intelligence departments of military organisations and are being labelled as 'Aliens from outer Space' as this is much easier to ridicule through the control that they can exert through the mainstream media. These secret sections of the military have learnt how to move between these lower Worlds and our Worlds - something that is actually connected to a particular group of Earth Energy lines. (We too have help to though. The 'Beings' from the higher Worlds are there to help us, but we need to learn, develop and grow & we need to prepare in order for us to take advantage of this very special time -This help comes via different groups of energy lines).

9. Our 'Would be' controllers know that certain global events are coming. They have prepared in advance for this and for their desired future supremacy afterwards. They know that along with all this cosmic energy, a wave of plasma destabilises our Sun and the resulting solar activity causes havoc on Earth with Volcanoes, Earthquakes and Electromagnetic disruption. This is why they have built huge underground cities and tunnels under the continents. However, if we take our opportunity when it comes, we will evolve & we will not need this protection – other ways to remain safe will also be shown to us.
10. All the Universal prophecies are telling us the 'time is at hand'. It will all occur in our lifetime and it looks as though the first really major wave is going to hit us in December 2024. (Whether this will be when the Sun changes we do not know yet. That may come days, weeks or months later in further waves). Disruptions are due before then though. These are both planned by the demonically infected humans and there will also be natural changes that have the Universal Consciousness behind them. There is nothing we can do about many of these things, but we can react the right way – a positive way and we can help other to as well. If enough of us do, we will win through.

Although I have only just scratched the surface here in regards to all the evil going on in the World, there is some good news though folks. It is not all doom and gloom. More and more people are waking up to what is going on every day.

You will be doing well if you are now reading this without any negative emotions already.

If you are ready for more – just read the information in these two links. The Cabal have stopped at nothing and False Flag events are their speciality in getting what they want. In this case of 9/11, they had the Patriot Act prepared beforehand and that event allowed them to start several more wars around the World.

I thought I had read most things about 9/11 but Professor Felzer's research is compelling especially when it comes to mini Nukes – A new technology that the public is not even aware of yet but now seems likely to exist.

To help get you quickly back into a positive frame of mind, here is an update on a subject I have covered in my social media posts and in earlier newsletters.

Safire project update

I have mentioned the Safire project in previous newsletters and in my social media posts. I have met the team behind this and asked them questions. They are good hearted individuals looking to make a positive difference to the World. This is their latest video and it looks as though they may have finally made a breakthrough as they scale up their initial experiment to recreate the conditions of the Sun in the laboratory to see what they could learn.

You see they think that our Sun is electrical and that we live in what is an essentially electrical universe. What they discovered was that around certain parameters in their testing, a surge of extra energy came through. They found they could repeat this and that they could explain this so they moved on to scale everything up with a view to producing regional energy centres. If they are successful, which I think they will be, there will be no need for fusion reactors, no need for nuclear power plants and no need for expensive wind farms.

See what you think though.

Courses, Seminars, Workshops news

In the hope that you are not too tired at listening to me being interviewed, the lovely Ayn Sullivan asked me to do another Wisdom of the Ages podcast (65mins). The subject this time is The Great Awakening. I hope you find the time to listen and that you like it.

<https://superpowerexperts.com/woa-the-great-awakening/>

One of the things I mention in it is the need for more people to get to a local sacred site. I am trying my best to map as many of these as possible but my time is becoming more and more limited with everything that has to be done. I have therefore initiated a sacred site location service, which for a price of £200, I can spend my time finding out where the nearest strong sacred site is near to where you live. I realise this is a price that not everyone can afford but, for those who can, it allows me to map areas and make these locations freely available to anyone living in that area who ask me for them. So if you can help me, and others here, by requesting a sacred site location finder, that would be wonderful.

Last month, I asked if anyone would like to join an initial test group for the first four modules of these Spiritual training module series. I am delighted to say that we have enough people to go ahead and that they have come forward from all around the World. I am really looking forward to starting these in mid-October.

When we are ready, we hope to have around 50 modules in a level 1, 2 & 3 format that can be rolled out.

They have also been designed so that discussions can take place around certain topics which is why some initial reading and watching of videos is necessary before taking part in the discussions.

As you progress up the levels, there is a greater reliance on the experience and wisdom of the participants to draw out the learning points from a discussion. It is these that are then shared amongst the other facilitators so that they can be brought out in their group discussions.

One key feature of these training modules is that they are based on certain fixed assumptions. These should be accepted and not debated. This is not to say that these assumptions are right or wrong but instead they offer up an alternative viewpoint and a perspective to enable us to look at existing and old topics in a completely new light.

The first assumption is that there is intelligence behind the creation of the Universe. The second assumption is that our mind survives after the death of the physical body. The third assumption is that all psychic phenomena is entirely natural and that this is fully supported by a new physics with its unified theory of quantum gravity. It is left up to mainstream physicists to show that their own theories can disprove these three assumptions with their own fully unified theory of gravity and quantum theory – something which they have so far failed to do.

The main driving force behind doing these modules is about individual growth physically, mentally and spiritually in order to best prepare for what is ahead of us all. This includes gaining the ability to help others to do the same and it is hoped that many of you will go on to facilitate further discussion groups.

There is also a business opportunity here for anyone wishing to take up. As soon as you have done a module, you can become a facilitator and run that module for your own group of people. What you charge for your time, you keep. More on that another time though.

Dowsing courses

With no seminars being run, I have been holding more dowsing courses. The 27th September was full, the 4th October course is now full. The level 2 course on the 11th October is now full and I have had to open up one more dowsing course for level 1 on the 18th October. So there are a few places now left on that one but if you had in mind that you would like to build up the connection between your conscious and unconscious mind in a helpful way & learn to dowse Earth Energy lines at the same time, please join up as soon as possible – more information via this link

Social media updates

I had a lovely email just over a week ago from someone who has done both my level one and two dowsing courses and who has read several of my books. His wife also seems to have read my novel 'The Grail Hunter'. They sent me a link to a you tube video which is a compilation of images they took when they went on one giant road trip. They started in Spain and visited some of the sites I wrote about and then proceeded to travel up through that country and into France where they then went to several other sites that I mention like Rennes le Chateau, Montsegur and the Mounsaunes chapel and also Chartres cathedral. Aside from the lovely images, Brendan had also done some dowsing and had mapped what he had found on some of his images. This is particularly interesting with his dowsing of the centres of his lines at the node in the middle of the labyrinth at Chartres and it shows us how we each find our own centre within the inner circle. (N.B This comes up at again at the end of this newsletter when I discuss empathy).

So if you would like to look at where he and his wife went, click on this link. It brought back some fond memories for me so thanks for that Brendan.

Books

I am guessing that avid readers of books will often find themselves in a similar position to me this month. You are about to finish one book which you are enjoying, when another one is brought to your attention and it arrives before you have finished your last book. Do you have a peak, a quick skim through, or do you wait until you have finished your last book?

In my case I am just finishing The Evolution of Consciousness and know that I am going to have to revisit it again and make notes on it all. I turned Jung's red book in to three Spiritual Training modules there was so much important work in it. I suspect a module on Steiner will be important to do one day too.

The book I ordered was done so based on intuition. I wrote about Edgar Cayce's work last month in order to complete a social media post (316) and found a biography on the great man by an author called Thomas Sugrue. It had been recommended to an American Geologist and he had bought it and that had changed his life. When I saw the title 'There is a River' and that this came from a verse in the bible from the book of Psalms, I knew I had to get it.

I have been dipping in and out of the 4th century Latin Vulgate bible nearly every week for a couple of years now. So much in that original bible has been omitted or mistranslated in later versions that you really have to do some ground research into the original Latin.

The important of rivers as a symbol will not have escaped readers of my book Grail Found when I cover Eleazar's Heiroglyphic figures. In the bible these references are also symbolic of Earth Energy lines. The number of times the tree of life is mentioned is also fantastic. It seems at times to be writing about an entirely different religion when you read this original version. (www.vulgate.org)

Either way, my mission now is to work out why that title was chosen for a book on Edgar Cayce. I am just going to have to wait a little longer to finish Steiner's Evolution of Consciousness.

Other

Many of you will have already sensed that the transition has already begun and that we are now experiencing smaller bow shock cosmic waves of energy hitting our Earth's atmosphere. Some of us are already experiencing an increase in sensitivity. Some people are sensing lies far more easily, some are becoming more telepathic and indeed we are even finding greater interconnectivity in our dreams and in our synchronicity.

There is one other area though that I would like to cover – Empathy.

Most of you who know me know I am not that sensitive, at least not as much as I would like to be. It has of course helped me in my dowsing as I am not affected or as drained as other people are when they work with energy for long periods of time.

I would like to start by saying that I am defining empathy as a shared feeling. An example of this is when some new mothers experience tooth ache when their baby has tooth ache and which goes away when the baby's tooth ache stops. In this case it is the pain that is felt empathically.

When we meet some new people, not every new person, in these transition times, we sometimes find these shared empathic feelings emerging. These can be a sort of attraction as well as a sort of distancing as we sense something we like or dislike about a person. This attraction is not just male to female. It can be between same sex people too.

I think animals have already developed this empathy to a higher degree than humans and we often see them respond differently to different humans that they meet as they feel either attracted towards them or not.

So why might we feel attracted to one person, and not to another, in these times and what exactly is this attraction and why is knowing about this so important?

Initially, if you are unaware of this increasing empathy, it might easily come across as a physical attraction between two people. This will be something that is actually felt by both of them and sometimes inadvertently expressed by one of them in seen and unseen ways.

I do not think here that, in these transitional times, this is a typical or normal physical attraction as one, or both of you, may well have no reason for any actual physical desire for each other (either same sex or opposite sex) – even though desire may be one of these empathic emotions felt.

I think something else is therefore working here on a deeper level and I think the strength of this also affects us physically & emotionally as well as spiritually. It is more like empathy on a spiritual level – a feeling and an expression of love itself.

If two people who are meeting for the first time, and when both have awakened souls, and therefore when both are feeling more empathic because of their journey, this physical, emotional and spiritual attraction is likely to be even more pronounced. This is the growing power of love and we perhaps need to understand all that goes with it and learn to react accordingly.

In addition to that, there is one other possible reason why we are finding ourselves attracted to certain people and not others in a non-physical way. When we dowse for the centres of energy lines, we find different people find different positions for these centres (it can be about a foot or two different). It is like there are 12 different types of people. Quite often we find that two or more people find these centres on exactly the same place. It is as though there is something common between those people. We suspect now that we need to find the right 12 people to fill each of the 12 different positions around a sacred circle site. This can be done by each of us finding the centres of the energy lines, but it takes a while to do this at each site and on each harmony time and we may need a large number of people present to find just 12. (I mentioned Brendan's dowsing earlier in this newsletter, at Chartres and the centre he found on the labyrinth there).

When we leave it to the Universe to decide who turns up, we have several times found 12 people, six women, six men all perfectly positioned in a circle. There is something special about the number 12 and the differences we all have and that means there is also something special when two or more of us are similar in some way (in this case wanting to stand on the same position where our centres meet).

I suspect that we are beginning to sense this similarity in others through a naturally growing empathy between us all. We seem to be being naturally drawn to people who are similar to ourselves. Perhaps we are now being drawn towards people who would naturally find the centres of the energy lines in exactly the same place.

This kind of developing empathy between similar people can, as you can imagine, possibly cause problems if read the wrong way. I am a naturally curious person so my immediate reaction is to investigate. Why might I be physically attracted to this person I have just met when I know nothing about them and I know it is not physical?

I think it is to do with the growing power of love and its physical, emotional and spiritual ways and it is not just being felt between everyone who is awakening, it is being felt more by people who are energetically similar – whose centres are the same.

I do think this will be something that more and more people will find happening and although I think this can be a good thing, misconstrued physical intentions could also become a problem. We perhaps all need to understand & recognise these empathic changes that are going to be occurring in stronger and stronger ways between us all.

This too could become a source of growing unrest in the World as people will either to want to distance themselves from other people or jump into bed with them – without knowing the reason why.

If we don't acknowledge this possible problem, society will separate out violently. If we do recognise it, society can separate out into many beneficial inter-dependent ways. One example of this is the sustaining of the many different cultures around the World and the respect and joy we can show each one of them.

What I can say is that, I am feeling a growing desire to be around more like minded people. In my dowsing groups, seminars & group meditations, I have met some really lovely people and everyone of us seems to get along with each other. There are notable, and very necessary, differences in personalities amongst us all but these seem to be overlooked with the genuine willingness from everyone to want to get along.

These natural differences, I believe are important. Remember, we have 12 places to fill around a circle with presumably 12 different types of people. We have to all get along. Indeed this is a message which ought to have come across in my last social media post (322) about the Mirror of Yata. If we are to be successful, different types of people, even from different religious groups, will need to come together.

So with this growing empathy between us all, I am beginning to see a growing desire for likeminded people coming together in communities. I quite like the idea of living in an area where I am surrounded by around a 100 people living within walking distance of each other.

To finish this newsletter, I would suggest that you prepare well in advance of what is likely to be happening over the next three months. I hope things do not get worse and if that is so, we will be far further down the timeline to our positive future. We will get there, but I would prefer not to have a bumpy ride along the way.

Hopefully this newsletter will have covered some of the more appalling scenarios that some would like us to experience so that, if they are allowed to happen, we can cope better and become positive again faster.
