

July Newsletter

Thank you all for your continued interest in my research. This newsletter continues in the same theme as the last with updates in the variety of areas that I have listed below.

1. Earth Energy news

As several of you will probably know, I have been remotely mapping the Emperor Dragons around the World. Three of them I finished before 2012, the last three pairs arrived only recently and the last one a couple of months ago. My latest work has the feel of having taken me a full circle. Let me explain. Around 11 years ago I was mapping lines across Wiltshire when, within the space of a couple of weeks, I encountered a series of three seemingly unrelated external phenomena and yet they were internalised in some way too. The great psychologist Carl Jung called this sort of thing an acausal connecting principle. The first occurred when tracking a pair of type 1 lines across an area of land near to Little Chalfield. The pair of them looked as though they were heading towards another pair of type 1 lines. I parked up not far from where I expected to see the node – in someone's back garden. Looking over the gate, I could see an original Native American TeePee. The lovely lady homeowner graciously allowed me to dowse around the Wigwam and I found the node just inside the entrance. The lady, who I have to say seemed remarkably comfortable with the idea of a strange man knocking on her door asking to dowse Earth Energy lines in her garden, told me later that she had an American Indian friend who would fly over and run ceremonies for her and her friends in this native tent. He used to sit and conduct them exactly on the node. The experience amused me at the time as it was the sort of strange things that one would come across when tracking lines across the country. What happened next lifted the lid on this slightly further though. I heard of a spiritualist meeting being held locally with a talk being given by someone who channels people from the other side and who painted pictures of the ancestors in the week before her talk at the meeting. The evening came and she showed three paintings. Two were quickly linked to two eager members of the audience as they were instantly recognisable. However with the third painting the medium admitted that it had her confused. It was a picture of a Native American Indian in a full headdress with feathers. No one put up their hand to admit it was an ancestor. My gut twitched at that point. It was only days since the TeePee and it felt as though this picture was relevant to me. I had no ancestors who were Native American Indian though, so I kept my arm down. I left the meeting feeling I had failed to do something important but could not figure it all out. There seemed to be a connection with the person in the picture but I just could not see one. Days later I was in a health club in Bristol waiting for my wife to finish her workout. In the reception a lady was cleaning the floor. Her name was Molly and she came over to me and said 'Did you know you have a Native American Indian sitting on your shoulder?' I soon found out that she had quite a strong psychic connection. It was from Molly that I found out about my extremely patient spirit guide who had been, for quite a while, trying to get my attention whilst also helping me map the lines. I often wondered why he would have wanted to help me but just recently it has become a little bit more obvious. The last Emperor Dragon has been having fun through sacred Native American Indian territory in the US. After a few weeks of mapping, the Emperors and the type 4's that cross over them, I have found some spectacular ancient sites. The most recent place I was directed to map (and thanks must go to Jean H. from Utah for this who kindly contacted me out of the blue) was a place called 1000 Lake Mountain. It was a strange name for a mountain, especially since it had no lakes on it but it was certainly one with an interesting local history

When you are exploring synchronicities, it is sometimes best to take your brain out. This being successfully done it led me to finding about this lovely basalt boulder with petroglyphs discovered in a nearby cave nearby. On it you can clearly see the spiral but the archaeologists who found it could also clearly see several serpents. If there were two symbols that could be most easily matched to the Earth Energy lines, it was these. One was clearly the sign of a vortex, the others were standard signs for energy lines. Clearly the ancient people here must have known about the 4th Order node on the flat topped mountain. There is much more mapping to be done and it does take some time, so if you would like to help me, please sign up to some of my events or buy some of my books as this all helps me be able to divert some of my time to this activity. I fully expect more stories like this in future newsletters, if you like them.

2. Awakening Consciousness news

The recent appearance of the Emperors has necessitated that these lines be bedded in with the existing Earth Energy grids. Much can be done remotely but it still needs the right people on the ground with the right knowledge and experience, and even vocation in life, to activate them. As I don't live in America, I am dependent on these acausal connecting principles, that Jung called synchronicity, for this to happen. (More on this and Carl Gustav Jung later in this newsletter). Our awakening consciousness is very much connected to these energy grids, the new cosmic energies and having these types of synchronicities. In my first newsletter, I wrote about the Tribe of the Sacred Heart. (January newsletter <https://roryduff.com/january-2019-newsletter/> - if, you would like to read this). I mention this because a lovely man called 'Rainbow Hunting Wolf', who has been organising this group, contacted me again a few days ago. After a few discussions I suggested he make a trip up to a place I called Serenity, where I'd repaired a 4th order node about a month ago. Lines from this node connect to the Emperor Dragon that runs through the sacred Mountain called Blanca Peak. Serenity was just a building site where the roads had been tarmacked (It was also in the middle of nowhere and it looked like the proposed development had run out of funds) . It was clearly signposted though, which made it easy to find – and it was perhaps this that was important. The energies there were undisturbed and, at the recent Solstice harmony time, they were really powerful. It was the name Serenity that was synchronistic connection to Wolf, in an internal sense, and that allowed him to recognise the importance of making a long trip to the building site. I wish I could tell you everything that he kindly reported to me about what happened next but a year ago he had told me that he had climbed to the top of Blanca peak with some water and had it blessed with the spirit of the energies at the summit. He poured some of that water on the node, onto the tarmac road surface where the centre was. (The act of taking blessed water like this to new nodes is very powerful). What followed almost immediately he reported as 'A good run of non-stop synchronicity' and I can tell you it was all extremely positive for him. I mention all this because I wanted to strongly show you how important synchronicity is if we are to awaken to this new consciousness. This is not something that is just going to happen even if we do nothing. Yes the energies are coming, yes the energy grids will be repaired, yes we still need people all around the World to gather at these sacred sites at the four occasions in the year BUT, this must be done synchronistically. That way the right people will arrive at the right time and everything will be done in the right order and when it is supposed to happen along the way. We must each try and follow our own unique paths in life. Wolf is certainly on his vocational path and I am just so glad that he made contact with me nearly six months ago.

If synchronicity or finding and following your vocation in life is something you would like to do, or do better, then I will be arranging a seminar/workshop later in the year called the Grail Quest Seminar. If this is of interest, please let me know in advance and I will reserve a place for you.

3. Science News

With all these cosmic energies coming into our solar system, you might be wondering what affect it is having on the planets. The one to look at here is Saturn. Saturn, you see, is not affected by the cosmic rays coming from the Sun as it is protected by its moons and their radiation belts as these are within Saturn's magnetosphere. What is interesting is that these radiation belts are replenished by cosmic rays that come from far off Galaxies. This is something that is unique in the Solar System and something that the Scientists working on the Cassini – Huygens Space research mission discovered. So if the increase in cosmic rays is having an impact on our planets as well as the Earth, we should expect see some definite effects of this with Saturn. Well recently, it was found that Saturn's rotation was slowing down and its storms were becoming stronger. Every 30 years it also has a super storm and this was connected to its 29.4 year orbit of the Sun. However the last super storm came 10 years early and it was bigger and stronger than ever before. On May 19th 2011 the last storm was so powerful it stretched right around the planet. One Cassini Scientist reported "A storm like this is rare. This is only the sixth one to be recorded since 1876, and the last was way back in 1990." Whether this was as a direct result in the increasing cosmic energy we may not know, but we do know the Local Interstellar cloud that our solar system has been sitting in for the last 100+ years, is moving away. The cloud is really a magnetic field and this then has been lowering in strength over this time – so much so, that the cosmic energies are now getting through. It is my thinking that this is what is causing the Emperor Dragons to return to Earth – but you would know all about that, and how that works, if you have read my book Grail Bound.

4. Social media news

I am still a little stunned at the increasing numbers of views for my Holy Grail Found documentary on Youtube. It reached 280,000 when my last newsletter was sent out a month ago and it is 380,000 now – 100,000 view in a month! Anyway if you have not seen it, here is a link (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=z4ZOzuZy8-E&t=752s>). The good news is that it is doing its job of finding the right people who seem to be connected in some way to these energies and that is helping me find the nodes that need to be repaired and also, what appears in hindsight, what seems like the right order. In regards to my Facebook posts, I would mention that in July I am moving on to African stone circles & a green Sahara and how that has changed the face of Egypt. This allows for a totally new way of explaining how the Pyramids were built over 12000 years ago – long before the Egyptian dynasty. I hope you enjoy the coming posts. The link to the page is here

5. Courses, Seminars, Workshops news

In June I ran the first ‘Evolution of Consciousness’ seminar at Stanton Drew Village hall. Again a lovely group of people turned up. Aside from the obvious theme, what is happening right now in regards to the science, what will be happening and what to expect, the mental exercises on the day was to learn & practice new techniques to shift from negative emotions to positive ones quickly. There were a few surprises there for everyone in regards to what they thought might be easy to do but was in fact much harder. The trick is not to miss out one of the steps. One thing I want to share with you in this newsletter from the course is something that is very relevant. The new cosmic energies are coming, as you might well expect, in waves. Think of waves coming across the ocean, they start small, get bigger and more frequent and they come in sets. Surfers talk about catching the 7th wave as that is always the biggest. Well we know that last big wave was in the last two weeks of Dec 2018. The next one will be coming this month of July. So what should you do? Well we have to learn to ride the wave and not get crushed by it. To do this we must think like the surfer. First we have to paddle in the same direction as the wave is heading. We need to pick up speed to match the speed of the wave. (Surfers that ride the really big 50 foot waves have to get towed behind a jet ski in order to catch the speed of the wave). In other words we have to match the pace of the wave. In reality this means we must recognise we have to go with the pace/ flow of the wave. We know that the effect of these waves is that they will enhance our emotions both in positive and in negative ways, depending on what emotions we hold. The trick here is that we must feel the intensity of any negative emotions and not suppress them at all. We then we have to shift those negative emotions quickly over to the corresponding positive ones. The faster we can do this, the more chance we can catch the wave. If we are too slow to shift to the positive, we will miss the wave. If we are too fast, and essentially here we are suppressing the negative in order to stay in the positive, we will also miss the wave – just like the surfer. Yes we will experience the drop and the bottom curve. These will be the challenges on the wave but we know that, if we overcome these, we will be riding the wave of our life with everything working just right for our vocational path. Synchronicity will abound. You will find you have become an ‘inverse paranoid’ with the whole of the World out to do you ‘good’- Best of luck to all of you with this. (There are physical signs to watch for but I have covered these in previous newsletters). Remember too that these waves are really just the smaller waves to practice on. Bigger ones are coming and they will come more frequently too. I hope to run another Evolution of consciousness seminar at the end of the year – probably November. If you are interested, please let me know. My next Grail seminar/Workshop will be on the 17th August. This is only for those people who have read my two Grail books though – sorry but you need to be up to speed with that content before we go down the rabbit hole. I will be putting up the comments from those people who did the last course in the next couple of weeks.

6. Book news

I am currently reading a book by Stephan Hoeller called 'The Seven Sermons to the Dead'. It is one of the best studies on Carl Jung's early thinking and his early experiences. Read it slowly and enjoy it. Why Jung has interested me so much recently is because it looks as though he either missed something or he knew something but had to withdraw from mentioning anything about his discovery in order to not put in jeopardy his work and place in history as a groundbreaking psychologist. Here is a link where you can download a free pdf of the book.

<https://gnosis.study/library/%D0%93%D0%BD%D0%BE%D0%B7%D0%B8%D1%81/+%20%D0%93%D0%BD%D0%BE%D0%B7%D0%B8%D1%81%20%D0%BD%D0%B5%D0%B3%D0%BD%D0%BE%D1%81%D1%82%D0%B8%D0%BA%D0%BE%D0%B2/ENG/Hoeller%20S.%20-%20The%20Gnostic%20Jung%20and%20the%20Seven%20Sermons%20to%20the%20Dead.pdf>

Perhaps I should add here that Jung first came across the concept of an acausal connecting principle, which he called synchronicity, back in 1930 but waited 22 years before discussing it any further. In his own words he had to exercise 'great caution and restraint as it was so powerful'. He saw it operating plenty of times during his interactions with his patients. On one occasion his patient talked about a dream he had of a golden scarab beetle and at the same time a scarab beetle like flying insect called a 'rose chafer' started tapping at the window – An internal experience connected to an external one that is seemingly unrelated (acausal) and yet connected at a deeper level. I will be delving deeper into these concepts in the new Grail Quest seminar that I am currently working on. My other interest in Jung was that he seemed to be getting very close to the understanding of Earth Energy lines but, from his descriptions of his interpretations of serpents as symbols, he never made that connection. The following quote lower down shows how close he got and if you have read Goethe's Fairy tale – the Green Snake and the Beautiful Lily, (A free audio version of my modern abridged translation is available on my website - <https://roryduff.com/goethes-fairy-tale-a-full-interpretation/>) you will immediately see the connection. Jung here is trying to define something that resides at the heart of the inner world he was exploring. "There is a hidden spirit in the World in nature in rocks, caves and waters. It slithers in the dark passages of the subterranean realm and it swims in the streams and the lakes which nourish the Earth. It rises serpent like in the cells of plants and its emanating influence are known as animals." As you can see, he comes very close to the concept of Earth Energies that we know today and almost perfectly describes the actions of the green snake at the start of the fairy tale. You can perhaps now see why I am so excited and passionate about the work I am doing. By inserting the knowledge learnt from the Earth Energies into all the past sayings, prophecies and visions connected to serpents and dragons, all of these things come alive and tell us an incredible story about our past and, because nature is cyclic, our future.

7. Extra

Just a quick update on my dowsing courses in the city of Bath, the 7th July is full for level 1 course in dowsing but there is still room for the one on the 21st July. The 5th October is the next date for the level 2 dowsing course. This is a full on day because I run it only for two people at a time. I need to say here that you cannot just come straight off the level 1 course on to the level 2 one – you need to have done at least 10 hours of dowsing energy lines as this is a competency based course with a test at the end that you have to pass. The test is an area in Bath where you have to map all the energy lines within the area that you have been taught about. It takes about 30mins to do and your work is then checked against the master map. I am told it is quite a rush when you find out you got it all right.

All the very best and thanks for your time reading this.
