

November newsletter

Turning and turning in the widening gyre
The falcon cannot hear the falconer;
Things fall apart; the centre cannot hold;
Mere anarchy is loosed upon the world,
The blood-dimmed tide is loosed, and everywhere
The ceremony of innocence is drowned;
The best lack all conviction, while the worst
Are full of passionate intensity.

Surely some revelation is at hand;
Surely the Second Coming is at hand.
The Second Coming! Hardly are those words out
When a vast image out of Spiritus Mundi
Troubles my sight: somewhere in sands of the desert
A shape with lion body and the head of a man,
A gaze blank and pitiless as the sun,
Is moving its slow thighs, while all about it
Reel shadows of the indignant desert birds.
The darkness drops again; but now I know
That twenty centuries of stony sleep
Were vexed to nightmare by a rocking cradle,
And what rough beast, its hour come round at last,
Slouches towards Bethlehem to be born?

This poem, 'The Second Coming', by the great Irish poet William Butler Yeats was written in 1919 soon after the first World War. In it he describes a powerful alternative to the Christian idea of the coming again of Jesus Christ in some final Judgement day where God destroys the old heaven and Earth and when only a few will enter a new kingdom of heaven.

Yeats instead sees anarchy and destruction but then seems to question what is really coming and how that might arise. 'What beast slouches towards Bethlehem to be born?'

With what is going on today, we might easily see some comparisons with Yeats' words. Many might easily say that we stand at the cusp of major change in our World with a new beast being born.

It is that 'change' that I want to look at in this newsletter with a view to helping people cope with what is coming by provide a little framework and perspective. Although Yeats may provide some glimpses of difficult times ahead, I believe our future to be far more rosy.

Some major things connected up this last month and I want to introduce to you, for the first time, something that I believe is incredibly telling in regards to what is about to happen.

I would like to start though by asking you a question:- "When was the last time you changed your mind on something important and then followed up that decision with action?"

This is actually not at all easy to answer but its designed to help you, introspectively, find out just how 'fixed' in your thinking you are.

You see 'fixed' thinking is going to get us into trouble when everything around us is changing. What helps is to remember that we are no experts, we cannot know everything. Indeed with so much new information coming out everyday in the World of Science, there can be no more experts.

With the changes in our energetic environment, and the changes these will bring, there is no one who currently understands just what we are going to be facing. To prepare for all this we must therefore all become far more adaptable.

So you might well now ask:- "What is it that I should change?". For that we can begin to look at what businesses do when assessing their own, or another, business. – They do a SWOT analysis. What are our Strengths, Weaknesses, our Opportunities & our Threats.

In the past, this used to be a relatively simple exercise. It is easy to find out our weaknesses and work on them until they become strengths. It is also simple when it came to the basics – like knowledge and experience - as we just had to find out the facts and learn. However it gets harder when this involves our thinking, our willing and our feelings.

What we invest time and effort in learning & gaining experience, we can become emotionally attached to what we collect. For example no one likes the thought of ones life's work being proved wrong and many people fight 'tooth and nail' to hold onto their wrongfully perceived truth. It is certainly not easy to change.

Change does occur though when faced with intensity. When the emotion is strong enough, the action decided upon is carried out.

What I want to address here though are our perceived strengths. With all these coming changes many people will soon identify their weaknesses and improve those areas. However we have to ask if our perceived strengths are actually well-disguised weaknesses.

I will give you one of my own as an example. I have always had insatiable curiosity. I find so many things interesting – perhaps because I see so much interconnectivity. I think that I might learn more about one subject from looking more closely at other subjects. You see I firmly believe this last statement to be true and it would take a lot to make me think otherwise. In other words this has put me a ‘fixed’ thinking position.

You might think that this could be a ‘strength’, but you can perhaps also see it as a distraction at a time when there is a need to be focused on following ones Vocational path. I have to therefore quell my curiosity in many areas and only research the ones that are linked to some kind of synchronicity. By doing this I know I am more likely to stay on a vocational path. It is the flow of synchronicity that we have to go along with in these changing times.

It is my belief that many of us now need to be following our vocational paths. We have chosen to come back to this World, at this specific time, in order to go through what we are about to go through.

The only thing we need to do is to play the role we set out to play. This is in full coordination with everyone else doing the same and it is all set within a grand design that was created by the Universal consciousness. Following synchronicity, going with the flow, is what we must do and rigid & ‘fixed’ thinking is going to restrict us from doing that – even thinking we have strengths could cause us problems.

We must think of ourselves as an open book – ready for any improvements, in any areas.

So what strengths do you have that could hold you back on you path? How will you know when to adapt and when to act?

I have asked these questions as we are going to be faced with anger & fear and many other negative emotions over coming weeks with the US Election media coverage & more Worldwide lockdowns.

It is going to be a time where we may need adapt our thinking and move quickly into peaceful contemplation with the feeling of love in order to counter the emotional war being waged on us.

Where we are heading towards though is really very positive. All these new energies are part of this transitioning into a new state of living, thinking and ‘be-ing’. We are in the middle of a move into much greater decentralisation and we are seeing the break-up of centralised control all around the World.

The death throws of the corrupt financial system are becoming more and more obvious and the disparity of wealth will disappear as those with far too much will feel more and more awkward about it. Nearly all of them will choose to gift most of it into the growing communities around them, the rest will cling on stubbornly until they become totally isolated. It is only then that they will realise that being independent in the World is just not possible.

Imagine instead a future of many thousands of inter-dependent communities all around the World.

They are already beginning to emerge and the common bond within and between them all is a new spirituality that is growing along with all these increasing energies.

Picture this as you read the rest of the newsletter and hopefully you will see how this is proceeding.

Earth Energies

Many years ago I started making daily and hourly readings of the side to side movements of the energy lines around where I lived as I walked our boxer dog Louis. What emerged over months of doing this were patterns. There were cycles that repeated and even these had much longer patterns and rhythms and cycles over the whole year.

I am talking specifically now about the type 3 lines and I measured 5 different type 3 lines for 18 months. The times they took to go one side and then back to the other gave them a frequency. Over a year it would take 12hrs around the Summer Solstice, then 14 hrs at the Equinoxes and then around the Winter Solstice it would take 16hrs. Also during that time every 7-10 days, all the type 3 lines would start moving in harmony within their own group and that would always last for 2 days. The 7, 8 or 9 days in between would also slowly change over the year in cycles. At the time I had no explanation as to why. Just recently, I think I may have found a reason.

Over the last few years, I began to realise that these energy lines could be further differentiated by the origins of their source energy before it interacted and became transduced at the inner core of our Earth. The type 5 lines, the Emperor Dragons, had a galactic origin that came from cosmic energy. The type 4 lines were more Solar and this also came via the cosmic energy coming from the Sun.

The type 3 energies though, I had considered would come from the electromagnetic energy generated within the liquid outer core. Now, I am not so sure that this is correct. It may still be so for the type 2 and type 1 lines but I have to remain flexible in my thinking until more information arrives.

In regards to these type 3 energy lines, what I want you to now remember is the significance of the 2 day harmony period as what may be the cause of this comes in the next section and this will lead on to giving us a very telling explanation for what we might come to expect after the transition into a wonderful new World that I mentioned earlier.

Science

As 'long-time' readers of my social media posts and these newsletters will know, I am a firm follower of the Electric sun model and Plasma cosmology. This is the new scientific paradigm that is rapidly growing as more and more people are discarding the out-dated models of the universe that have been kept alive for far too long. Unfortunately there are still a few wealthy powerful people who still wish to keep fuelling this deceit and obfuscation purely to feather their own nests and no one else's.

With this new science in mind, what I want to cover in this section is to show you a link between what our Sun does and what our Milky way galaxy does. This will then lead to a new understanding between our Sun and the observations made on the type 3 Earth Energy lines that I have just discussed in the previous section.

This, in turn, will lead us to important learning in regards to the connection between similar information about our Galaxy and further observations made on our Earth energies. It is the implications that come from this connection that will give us more precise indications of what we are about to go through.

This is also the first time, I have written about this.

As the Earth rotates around the Sun we cross the Sun's equator twice a year (Think of the Earth's equator and its North and South poles – the Sun has similar). The equator sits on a plane that extends outwards throughout the solar systems and we find all of the planets sit on, or near, that plane and they move above and below that plane, as they rotate around the Sun.

Like the Earth, the Sun also has a rotating magnetic field, as does the centre of our galaxy. As the Sun rotates, the magnetic field twists in to a spiral and this spiral extends out across the whole solar system.

This spiral field is called the heliospheric current sheet. This sheet is not flat though, it is rippled with waves and within this sheet there is a small electric current. The image at the front of this newsletter shows two filaments in space - one positive & one negative - typical of an electrical current.

What can also just be seen is a very slight wavy shape along its length. (The image is a close up of just one small part of the current sheet).

So, although the Earth may pass through the Sun's Equator twice a year, because of the peaks and troughs of these waves, it passes through them far more often. (See the image below – the small Earth bottom right is shown following a white line through the diagonal, cut away, representation of the wave)

At the distance of the Earth from the Sun, the current sheet, where we are, has a thickness of about 10,000km.

What I discovered next from these scientists literally blew me away.

Because this heliospheric current sheet rotates with the Sun, as the Earth passes through its peaks and troughs, it interacts with the Earth's magnetosphere. It takes the Earth a variable 8-10 days in between each time it passes through this sheet (It is variable depending on whether it is passing near the peaks and troughs or in the middle – which takes a little longer). It then takes 2 days to pass through the 10,000km thickness of the sheet itself. During that time we also know that it affects the Earth because we find an increase in geomagnetic storms.

What amazed me was this now seemed to very closely match the observations I'd made on the type three lines. The two day harmony time seemed to coincide with the time the Earth passed through the galactic sheet and the 8-10 days seemed to match the days between each harmony period !

This now meant that the type 3 lines could be being affected by an Electrical connection between the Sun and the Earth. If true, this connection had to be via the core of our planet (Probably via the liquid outer core where it is thought that the Earth's electromagnetic field is being generated).

This source mechanism for the energy somehow now brings all the type 3 energy lines into a harmonic side to side movement and it goes some way to explaining how their quarterly changing frequencies are linked to the four solar cycles (Each new cycle starting on the Equinoxes and Solstices).

If we extrapolate this further, it links this current sheet to the production of vortexes and the double torus that appears on the last day of the sun's cycle – the Tekufah – the harmony time – a time when we can connect much more easily with the universal consciousness when we do group meditation.

We are already finding this harmony time has extended from one day to 6 days sometimes so this is now also connected in some way to these rippling current sheets and their increasing width. In other words it is taking longer for the Earth to pass through them – almost certainly because of the increasing energy which is coming from the Active Galactic Nucleus at the centre of our galaxy.

To take this extrapolation even further now, we also know that our Sun's Toroidal magnetic field is mirrored by the Galactic toroidal magnetic field and that it too has a galactic current sheet. The only difference being it is much larger and more powerful.

The above image is a representation of the much larger galactic sheet which I have covered in a previous newsletter. It too is rippled and wavy.

Just as our Earth passes through the Sun's current sheet, so our solar system passes through the galactic current sheet.

It takes around 240,000 years for our solar system to go round the centre of our galaxy and, at our distance from the centre of the galaxy, with its rotating wavy, galactic current sheet, the time it takes the solar system much longer to pass through this thicker current sheet.

The time between passing from one rippled wave of the galactic sheet to the next also takes a lot longer than the 8-10 days that the Earth takes pass between from one ripple of the Sun's sheet to the next.

From what we have been told by scientists, it takes around 12,000 years for our solar system to travel from one galactic sheet ripple to the next one and it takes between 180 and 200 years to pass through the thickness of it.

Now the reason why our Earth takes 8-10 days hold true for our solar system. It too would have a variable amount of time to pass through one ripple to the next. 12,000 years could be + or – several hundred.

This is all fantastically important information for us and it has huge implications.

The waves of increasing energy we are getting, now seem to be down to our solar system entering the outside zone of the next ripple of the galactic current sheet. It has been 12,000 years since we left the ripple last time and it seems we're in a transition zone as the energy increases. We are seemingly in a 7 year bow shock wave zone that comes ahead of entering the actual wave that started in Dec 2017. We can now be far more sure of the exact timing of this because it is the Earth energy changes that are giving us a sign of these impending galactic changes. (The green snake in Goethe's fairy tale, the symbol for these energies, is indeed the only character that knows when the time is at hand).

When we experience the full force of this galactic current sheet, scientists tell us we will be in it for around 180-200 years.

If what we find happening between the Earth and the Sun, is mirrored with the Galactic centre and our Solar system, which according to the Electric Universe theory is highly likely, we are about to go into a similar long period of energetic harmony.

Just as the Sun controls and dominates our whole energetic environment four times a year (the harmony times), it now seems that the centre of our galaxy controls and dominates the whole galaxy's energetic environment every 12,000 years.

During the harmony times the Sun provides us with, we find it much easier to connect with the Universal consciousness. During the much longer harmony times our galaxy provides us, we should expect an even greater & longer lasting connection with the Universal consciousness.

This now also begins to explain the lengthening time of the harmony period which was less than a day back in 2008 and is now up to 6 days sometimes.

The implications of this now link us to the Universal prophecy that I write about in my book Grail Bound and the coming Golden age.

We are naturally moving into this Golden Age, nothing can stop the solar system and the galaxy doing this but how well prepared are we for these coming changes – indeed whatever these changes are to life on Earth, as we cannot yet know the total effect?

This is the time of transition. We must be adaptable. We cannot have fixed thinking as we must prepare for anything.

What we do know is that this is not a personal or an individual thing. Not everyone is supposed to, or is expected to, be able to prepare for this new environment. To do so will be tough. Many will fail & some may even go mad trying. Our goal though is for enough of us to come together to be able to reach a state of mind where we can not only cope with, but also to excel, in this new environment and if these key people (Light workers?) do this all together, in group meditation at the sacred sites, during these harmony times, those 'hard to acquire' skills will instantaneously pass, by process of entrainment, into all humans on this World. In other words 'The few can save the many' when we reach a moment of morphic resonance.

This is what we have come back here to do this time round.

We are here to 'pave the way' so our children & grandchildren and great grandchildren can 'blaze the trail' in a golden age of enlightenment for the next 200 years.

This is what has happened, with degrees of greater or lesser success, for hundreds of thousands of years on this planet.

Now is our time to make a success of it. Fortunately, we come better prepared than all the other groups before us.

Our soul's journey, our ancestral experience and knowledge, our current day observations have all given us an increased chance of success.

Imagine now thousands of small groups of people gathered in group meditation, at sacred sites local to where they live, on the harmony times and all of us just connecting to the Universal Consciousness via the Universal Energies.

If we do that and then try and follow our own individual vocational paths by exploring synchronicity, we will be guided.

We will learn what we need to learn and do in order to bring everyone into the coming Golden Age.

This is actually very easy for us. We just need to spread the message and the right people will come forward – they know who they are and many have already stepped up.

Now is really the time for the many existing groups to begin to interconnect – first electronically, then telepathically, then spiritually.

Your help in any way to do this would be welcomed by everyone of us.

Courses

I have now finished all my dowsing courses for 2020 and have to say how much I have enjoyed them all. This was purely because of all the wonderful people who came along. Everyone was so good natured & accommodating towards everyone else's differences and needs that it really allowed for people in the group to get on so well.

I have now started my online spiritual training discussion groups and have to say the same is also true. From my own perspective our World really does seem to be full of wonderful people. So where are all the 'off-centred' ones? I am sure there are a few out there but my guess is that the good natured people far outweigh them in numbers – probably by about 95% to 5%. Just think what the moderate majority could really achieve if we all came together.

In the spirit of this newsletter, which is about how we change and adapt with this transitioning to a new energetic environment, I wish to introduce you to a really lovely lady – Saira Salmon

She has spent many years researching & learning about many of life's mysteries and, along with her own experiences, she has put together some really fantastic video based seminars.

This is what can be said about her latest one.

"Times are changing fast, and we need a whole new understanding of the world and set of tools in our toolbox to thrive in what lies ahead.

Modern life has become like the Wasteland of Grail legends and we seek to find a way to fill the void it brings within us, to reconnect to Life and our purpose and that sense of something magical which lies just beyond our fingertips grasp.

Awakening Your Grail Wisdom introduces the seeker to the Grail Mysteries, laying out the path to wholeness of Self at every level in a disconnected and fractured world, introducing you to the world of energy in its many forms, the magic in the everyday, helping you reconnect to what has been lost and step into the fullness of who you can be.

In short, the many levels of Grail Wisdom opens up the understandings and skills we need to navigate the changes ahead and become a beacon of light in an ever-darkening world.

Grail Bearers are sorely needed, so join us if you feel the call."

Books

I have to say in all honesty that this last month I have been incredibly busy and have fallen far back in my reading time - so my apologies that there is nothing in this section for this month.

Social media post

Just in case any of you are not yet able to read my social media posts, I would like to expand on one of them. This is about my most recent post about the Lions gate at Mycenae in Greece.

The city of Mycenae was said to have been built with the help of Giants probably well over 5000 years ago. The Giants lived & worked amongst the humans in harmony, just as is described in many parts of the Old Testament in the bible.

It was a religious centre first run by female high priestesses. They used to conduct rituals in underground caverns where there were holy springs & wells that amplified the energy coming from a large type 1 vortex (Not the same as an energy node).

It became well known as a healing centre and a place to manifest ones needs as well as a place to communicate with ones ancestors.

Above the front gate was a sculpted stone showing two lions with their front paws on an Altar that had a column between them that was most likely holding up 10 round circles. These were arranged in four rows with the base row of four (which you can still see) supporting a row of 3 circles, then 2 circles and then 1 at the top (which you cannot see). Each of these circles represented one of the 10 known (at that time) Spirit Worlds. The column represented the sacred path to reach these Worlds – just like an Axis Mundi or Tree of Life.

This sign being above the front gate was a form of early marketing that showed the travellers they had reached the right place – a place of miracles, a place of communion with Spirit.

These ten circular symbols, stacked in this way, were well known to the Greeks. This was the Greek Monad, also known later as the Greek Tetractys that Pythagoras was known to teach his students about. (Readers of my book Grail Found should remember that Professor Hoffman from Des Moines University in the US showed that Pythagoras was originally known for his spiritual school and teaching about survival after death. It was only centuries later, when the Roman church wanted to stop this way of thinking, did they start portraying him as some master philosopher and mathematician.)

I mention all these things because it seems that the portals to these Spiritual Worlds are becoming much more relevant again. The Inca talk about gateways to the Gods & gateways to the Ancestors, opening and closing, and we know there are gateways to the Worlds where giants exist as well as gateways to where Demons dwell. Stories and legends all around the World tell similar stories and how these portals open and close over great passages of time. The Portals, as I see it, are the nodes and vortexes, when you have the keys and have learnt how to use them. (This is what the Spiritual Module series is heading towards in regards to the knowledge we know so far in this regard.)

With the increasing waves of energy coming in, because of the lowering magnetic fields allowing more cosmic energy through, it is highly likely that these portals will be able to be opened again.

By the way, the reason we get the lowering magnetic fields, & the pole reversals in the Sun's Toroidal Magnetic field every 11 years (and the magnetic incursions and full reversals on Earth over much longer periods of time), is because of the changes in the Galactic Toroidal Magnetic field and the plasma & cosmic waves it sends our way.

So with these increasing energies, and with them all coming into harmony now for a really long time (180 to 200 years), keeping these portals/gateways/nodes/vortexes as safe sacred places (symmetrical energetic shapes, rather than broken or asymmetrical) will become so much more important. We may even need to raise funds to buy the land the sacred sites are on in order to protect them and make provision for access to them for all with good intent.

Opening up some gateways though, will present us with problems. Most of us, for example, will probably not like the idea of letting Demons through into the World. (Unfortunately, there may well be some really 'Off-centred' people may try and do just that and it may be up to a few of us to ensure this does not happen).

Fortunately, we are learning more and more about opening and closing and sealing portals and these are some of the things we are being taught when working in groups. More groups doing the same all over the World are needed though. We are remembering the ways of our ancestors, but there is much more we need to learn.

Working together in groups at sacred sites like the large vortex at Mycenae, is how we can do this.

The good news is that there are many places we can do this. Sacred sites are actually far more numerous than you might imagine. Really strong ones (4th Order nodes) are less in number but will still be on average less than 100 miles away and most of us will be within 50 miles of one of these powerful sacred sites.

If anyone does not think they have a sacred site near to them and would really like to know where their nearest sacred site is & 4th Order node, I can help with the sacred site location service. I do have to charge though due to the time it takes to do accurate remote dowsing of the location. <https://roryduff.com/sacred-places/> It may take about 3-4 weeks though as I have quite a few I am doing at the moment.

Other

I get very kindly sent several links to videos everyday as suggestions to watch. I would love to look at all of them but I am finding I just do not have the time. What would really help is for the video links to come with a brief sentence to outline of what the video is about and direct links to the minute and second of the key parts they would like to draw attention to.

With that in mind, I would like to suggest a video link to you all. It was very kindly sent to me by a lovely person. I took notice of it as I had recently watched another short video of Anna's work and in particular about her time with a black panther who was originally called Diablo. (This video short is also featured at the end of this longer video from 38min 50s onwards.)

It was not just this part of the documentary that I wanted to draw your attention to. It was something that was covered earlier on in it that showed a connection to Earth Energies and to remote dowsing (This is the ability to dowse an area some distance away from where you actually are – something I teach in my level 3 dowsing course).

The name of the lady in the video is Anna Breyenbach and she has built up an amazing connection to the natural World such that she can communicate with animals.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rQehXoCipts&feature=youtu.be>

In particular, I would draw you attention to the parts where she works with trackers of animals at 23m50secs and 30m 0s.

The trackers have also developed a high degree of awareness of nature and this allows them to connect with the mind of the animal. They may start with an animal track and this initiates the connection but after that, the tracks can be a distraction. They get directed to the animal by feeling either heavy on one side of their body or light and tingling on the other side. This tells them to turn left or right. This are similarities here to dowsing and how it is taught.

When the trackers open up their awareness and soften their minds, they see silver lines stretch out ahead of them. These lines also direct them to the animal they are looking for. When they open up this awareness channel with the animal, the animal also knows the channel has been opened up and it is at these times that the tracker can get an actual vision of the animal and where it is.

The trackers are constantly showing gratitude and are regularly blessing it all as it is happening. They know this connection has been given to them through the connection to the Universal consciousness.

There is so much in this video that can be linked to how we can improve upon our meditation. It even helps our understanding of remote dowsing. But perhaps the one thing I would wish to draw you attention to here, is the awareness of nature.

I know many peoples journeys begin this way. Just being with the woods and trees, the wind and the waves, the rocks and the Earth, making observations is enough to kick start us on our path.

Anyway, there are other things, I would like to have included in this newsletter but they can wait till next time.

Please do share this with friends and better still get them to sign up to future the newsletters via my website www.roryduff.com

Finally, we will have some turbulent times in the near short term to go through, we just need to stay positive.

The beast that is coming that WB Yeats saw, is within us. We are the ones heading to be reborn in the new Bethlehem. We must quell the anger and fear within.

There is so much that is positive that is coming to this World with this new wave of energy, but we cannot sit back and do nothing and expect it to just be given to us.

We can stop being fixed in our thinking, go with the flow, ride the smaller waves we are receiving now, and we can then go on to learn to surf the bigger ones that are coming.

If we can get enough people doing this in many small groups around the World, we will truly enter a golden age for all humanity.

Thank you for your time.

The following are the words of Jonathan Trapman, a modern day truthseeker and activist.

“We are presently fighting the Third World War. It is a War for Our Minds. Unless we explode our minds releasing all the belief structures, indoctrinations, forced BS, history and propaganda, we leave no space for reality, the real, the new, the true to have space. Mind Control is very real. Technology has been abused to make it powerfully seeded. Only our self-knowledge, critical minds and fearlessness can defeat this virulent enemy -thus the exploding head.”

More about what Jonathan is doing can be found on his website <https://thefreedomcycle.com>

I have added it here because of one thing he says, we cannot fight the system by working to bring about change of that system.

To me there is only one way forward for us:-

Sun – (solar dynamo) Toroidal magnetic field

The Sun's current sheet flips every 11 years – magnetic reversal – the sheet carries a small electric current. The current sheet is wavy – seen image at start – two filaments positive & negative currents – nodes along the wave

The shape of the current sheet results from the influence of the Sun's rotating magnetic field on the plasma in the interplanetary medium \(solar wind\).<sup>[4]</sup> A small electrical current flows within the sheet, about  $10^{-10}$  A/m<sup>2</sup>. The thickness of the current sheet is about 10,000 km near the orbit of the Earth

The heliospheric current sheet<sup>[1]</sup> is the surface in the Solar System where the polarity of the Sun's magnetic field changes from north to south. interplanetary current sheet.

As the Sun rotates, its magnetic field twists into an Archimedean spiral, as it extends through the solar system. This phenomenon is often called the Parker spiral, after Eugene Parker's work<sup>[6]</sup> that predicted the structure of the interplanetary magnetic field.

We cross the Sun's equator twice a year but we cross the wavy current sheet far more often.

The heliospheric current sheet rotates along with the Sun with a period of about 25 days, during which time the peaks and troughs of the skirt pass through the Earth's magnetosphere, interacting with it.

Earth passes through the Sun's current sheet every 8-10 days and it takes about 2 days to pass through. When we do pass through we can find an increase in geomagnetic storms
